

HUMOR

Welcome to the Wild West

By Anil Shrivastava 'Musafir'

Since America is Wild West where lawlessness prevails and people are shot in schools, churches, malls, and even inside the Capitol building, the Republic of Alabanda announced today that any Alabandian citizen planning a visit to the U.S. will be outfitted with weaponry and armor-related accessories for safety reasons.

This country will arm citizens with whatever they need to survive, including rocket launchers. Little is known about the Republic of Alabanda except that both polygamy and cannibalism are legal in Alabanda similar to the U.S.A. where anyone can shoot anyone at the drop of a hat.

There are several ways Alabanda might arm citizens which will assure that they will not be arrested at American airports for carrying weapons. Alabandians entering the US legally will be given weapons vouchers which can then be redeemed at the nearest Alabandian Embassy.

Alabandians going to smaller US cities will be given a voucher for a Smith and Wesson 500, 50 rounds of ammunition, and a bulletproof vest. Visitors to larger cities like Boston, Houston, and Washington D.C. will get vouchers for an AK-47, Uzi, or AR-15 Assault rifle, 500 rounds, and full body armor.

Alabandians going to American murder capitols such as Chicago, New York or Atlanta get all the above plus vouchers for hand grenades, a flame thrower, and an Airtronic GS-777 handheld rocket launcher. In special cases, Alabandian citizens may apply for a voucher redeemable at any location of Abdul's Rent-a-Tank. The Alabandian Embassy is in New York, located in a pawn shop on Upper Broadway.

Alabandian citizens who wish to enter the US illegally can get their weapons at the Alabandian Embassy in Mexico City. America believes in an open-door policy, anyway.

Other countries are so impressed by this Alabandian move that they may require their citizens visiting the U.S. to do the same. Iran and Afghanistan are rumored to follow the suit first. The news is spreading like wildfire. Rumor is that the king of the Republic of Alabanda, HH Massadossa Canabassa VI is nominated for the Nobel peace prize.
